As a long-time supporter of Oprah's vision of teaching us how to live our best lives, I was thrilled about the creation of OWN. To have OWN Canada as part of my life has continued my education on how to move through this challenging world we call home.

The programs like Iyanla Fix My Life, Oprah's Master Class, Life Class, and even a show like Where Are They Now?, teach me something about myself. I see parts of myself reflected in each of the people who appear on the show. I learn from them and the Master teachers that Oprah gathers to educate us. Most of the world's best Spiritual teachers are brought into our homes through OWN Canada. Almost daily I use the lessons from the programs to in turn teach those around me how to stand tall in their own lives. This world is about learning and re-teaching what we have been taught. It thrills me when I am able to gain knowledge from watching OWN Canada. Most of the courses I am taking, by just turning on my television to OWN Canada would have cost me thousands of dollars to attend in person.

Enough cannot be said of the difference OWN Canada is making in my life. The world needs the Spiritual teachings that we can find on OWN Canada.

This IS the best channel ever!!! I've learned a lot watching Oprah's Lifeclass, Next Chapter and Masterclass, and shows like Iyanla Fix my life! Not only do I learn from them, but my life is more uplifted than ever! You know, it's not only to learn something, but to own our life, and put it into practice every day... It's a new way to see life!!! Don't all of us need that? Sure we do!

The only thing missing is the "Super Soul Sunday", which is only in US... I look forward to watch that show in Canada!!!

Have a nice day!

Comments=I'm not even sure where to begin. OWN has become a source of strength for me. When I feel as though I need a life boost, I go to OWN. When I feel as though I'm lost and need guidance, I go to OWN. When I am scared and feel alone or unworthy, I go to OWN! When I need a laugh and feel-good joy rising moment, I go to OWN! A HUGE part of the reason I AM here today is because of Oprah and OWN! Through teachings from Lifeclass, MasterClass, Next Chapter, Iyanla's Fix My Life and other amazing television programming from OWN, I have not only learned but also accepted and BELIEVE that I am more, so much more than the shell of a person I thought I once was. I have learned valuable life lessons that I can take with me moving forward. OWN is more than just a television network. It has given not only me, but millions of people the strength, love and knowledge we need to be sustained in life. I AM a truly better person because of OWN. Because of OWN, I have learned how to empower myself. Because of OWN, I have taken power back that I may have normally given away to someone else. I am the one in control, I am the one who is in charge of my future, I am the one who decides which path I will take tomorrow. I am this person because I am a student of OWN!

Comments=Are you kidding me? This is right up there with National Geographic!!!!

We are learning about ourselves and how we can be the best people we can be. This means better relationships, better communication, healthier people too because we are connecting our minds and spirits with our bodies for optimal health. We want to be happier and healthier people and this is helping us in the biggest way possible. I have learned valuable lessons from LifeClass, Master Class and Iyanla Fix My Life to name a few and only wish this country would see value in letting me watch Super Soul Sunday on tv as well. I am a teacher and I know quality education when I see it. This space isn't even BIG enough for me to jot down all the notes I've taken in just this year alone from viewing OWN as i filled up a notebook. I think it is ridiculous that Oprah needs to justify the value she brings at this point in her career....come on! I pay extra for this channel and wait for those shows to watch quality tv. I wouldn't know about life in India or learn from people she interviews from the other shows if Oprah didn't continue to share with us. DO NOT CANCEL OWN IN CANADA.

May the sun shine upon you, all love surround you, and the pure light within you guide your way on.

I have over 700 channels on my cable plan, however whenever I turn on my tv it's on channel 27 OWN Network, it is the best quality educational and impactful station.

I have a journal that I use when watch Life Class, Iyanla Fix My Life, Super Soul sunday and Master Class. Life is very stressful and these shows and this network help me to learn new tips and strategies to manage the busy world we live in.

My friends and I watch these shows together and discuss them after to help us live better live better lives.

As Life Coach, the information shared on the network I use with my clients. There are tools that you can pass on and make a difference in someone's life.

There are no television networks that has such a positive aspect and variety of teach tools that bring the world together.

I also like Buy.O.Logic which helps me be an informed consumer and the cooking shows are helpful in preparing healthy meals for my family.

OWN Canada is one of the best things that has happened to Canadian television.

Comments=The fact that the OWN Canada channel is not being considered an educational channel is mind boggling to me. While I admit that some shows on the Canadian version of the Network, such as "Snapped" and "Gastown Gamble" may not serve as an educational tool in MY life, who is to say that those shows do not provide an education to other viewers. Television shows are similar to our life experiences as human beings; one can never really know when they will experience an "aha" moment. Every person we interact with and every experience we encounter has the potential for a lesson to be learned. Every show presents itself with a take-away to be had. Reality shows such as "The Cupcake Girls" and "Gastown Gamble" can provide a viewer who owns a business some tips on what to do and avoid while running a business. Shows such as "Snapped" and "The Devil Inside Me" can ultimately provide viewers with the opportunity to decipher what some red flags might be in their potentially dangerous relationships.

Personally, the OWN channel has provided me with great lessons and moments of clarity with shows such as "LifeClass" "Master Class" "Iyanla Fix My Life" "Love Town" and "Oprah's Next Chapter". I am a 23 year old psychology student in university and am at a point in my life where I feel uneasy about my future. I suffer from anxiety and depression along with countless physical ailments that are all due to excessive, chronic stress. After watching an episode of "Next Chapter" that featured a man who had a nervous breakdown from too much stress, I realized that I needed to start listening to my body and take care of myself. While I am still in the process of trying to find myself in a place of piece and totality, I have started to take the necessary steps in my life to try to heal myself. What OWN does for me is provides me with moments of introspection and inspiration. OWN helps in providing me invaluable lessons that serve as the foundations of a life that can be lived with peace, authenticity and gratitude.

Oprah Winfrey, and her entire OWN team serve as great teachers and are a true blessing to society.

Comments=The lessons imparted during Lifeclass are so invaluable I make my 12 y/o daughter watch with me. The combination of images, sharing of stories and testimonials, discussion amongst the participants and ability to interact on the web cements the lessons in a way unlike any other learning experience. During one lesson about listening to one's intuition I told my daughter "I want you to watch this because this lesson is so important and I can not teach it to you any better myself." She agreed. She watched with such undivided attention I took a picture of her during the broadcast. One of our recent favourite lessons during the shows with Pastor Joel Osteen is "Whatever follows 'I am' will come looking for you." That was a classic "lightbulb moment" for me and my daughter and literally shifted the way we think. I am so grateful my daughter had the opportunity to learn this lesson at such an early age. The Oprah Winfrey Show was full of lightbulb moments and when that show ended I was so sad because I thought my daughter would not get to grow up with Oprah in the way that I had. I am happy to say that the end result is even better: The lessons learned during the run of the Oprah show have been condensed into the unique programs on OWN and expanded upon with the inclusion of new speakers and teachers so that now my daughter has an even better experience as she grows up! OWN TV programming teaches moms (and dads) life changing lessons which are imparted to the next generation. It is happening in my house and I expect millions of others all over the world. In my opinion, no network comes close OWN for its ability to reach, teach and more importantly effect positive change here and across the world. To paraphrase one of Oprah's producers, OWN TV is the graduate school of educational programming.

When I was first informed about the hearing regarding the CRTC and OWN Canada, I was confused. OWN Canada is being questioned as not being compliant with educational services, really tell my family that, tell my friends that. We are the viewers & we know the value in OWN Canada/TV. The lessons I have learned will forever be held in my heart and my head. These are not lessons you can find just anywhere. I specifically started watching t.v. again so I can reap the benefits of the some of the greatest teachers this world has to offer.

Let me describe to you how my family and I have benefited from OWN Canada/TV. I came from a life of trauma & sadness. Through the lessons from OWN, I learned to love myself again and I feel like I have found a "home". Programs such as Lifeclass, Oprah's Next Chapter, Iyanla Fix My Life, Super Soul Sunday (online) etc has such deep learnings for me & my family. From each program I was able to extract valuable tools to move beyond my story & create a new story.

My only regret is, I wish there was OWN when I was growing up. There was always Oprah, but with OWN it is so much more. It has taught me to Dream Big, how to manifest those dreams into reality. So much so I have become an OWN Ambassador & recently had a private lunch with Oprah Winfrey. It has also taught me that any "I AM" statement will follow you. Not only have I changed the way I speak of myself, but I have taken that one step further & taught my children.

The tools and lessons are invaluable. As a viewer, and someone who participates and interacts daily with OWN it will be a disservice to viewers if CRTC rules against OWN

If you were a parent and had a pre-teen/young adult or even yourself. What would you rather turn on, some show with an insane amount of violence, programming that has absolutely no value, or would you rather turn on OWN & be taught by the greatest teachers/leaders of all time.

Do us all a service and vote FOR OWN! We need it, we live it, we breath it!

Comments=I feel that whenever I watch the OWN Network, I take away the knowledge of self worth and importance. In today's world, our culture views learning as a fast paced curriculum where we witness increased learning issues and less scholars. OWN Network helps those, who have struggled through disabilities and hardships, to cope and experience self-growth through self learned prophecies and common sense ideologies.

Quite honestly, if more people watched some of the amazing programming on OWN, our world could be a more peaceful and cooperative place to live. To know one's self is the first step in knowing and respecting your surroundings.

The knowledge that is imparted through MasterClass, LifeClass, and Iyanla Fix my Life include many lessons on how to empower ourselves to respond to situations that may be encountered in personal and professional relationships. I teach graduate students and have recommended my students to follow and watch many of the programming that demonstrate stories of strength and transformation in relationships, home and wellness. The shows are unique and offer a different perspective on personal growth and learning that is not offered on any other channel.

Dear CRTC and OWN;

Oprah Winfrey and the OWN network has changed my life, and is helping me change other peoples because of the lessons, life skills and knowledge I have gained. It was Oprah's advice that gave me the courage to return to school and pick up my life after three of the most devastating years possible. I am working towards my nursing degree. It has been the knowledge and inspiration I gained from OWN that helped me realize I could do more to help those around me. I started working towards helping advocate for NICE (Necessary Interventions for Continued Existence) Life Centres to help provide support, a place where someone cares and to meet immediate needs for food and warmth and a listening ear. Suicide is the second highest cause of death for young people in Canada. We need healing, we need people to be inspired to help youth know there is a way to find peace. Oprah and the OWN network helps do that.

I have spent months creating a youth leadership program focusing on At Risk youth to help them find their potential confidence and learn life skills to find happiness and peace. OWN gave me the confidence and drive to be able to do this, to even think it was possible to make a difference.

The support and amazing energy of the network of friends, inspiring agents of change working at making the world a better place. It is an incredible power for change, for teaching compassion, confidence, non violence, education and inspiration.

OWN life classes should be the type of classes we offer highschool students so that they can deal with and learn to change the violent, sometimes cold, dysfunctional world around them.

I believe more people have gained an education on the important lessons in life and on character, compassion, communication and wisdom then they got in all of their formal education. I know I did, and I know every person I meet, everyone I help also has OWN and Oprah to thank.

Comments=Add your comments here. I watch all your life classes and I'm trying to live in a positive way, but have great difficulty. When I found out my mother slept with my husband I felt like my whole life changed. I watched the program with Shania Twain and can relate to a lot of how she felt, but this person that betrayed me is someone your suppose to fully trust with your life, and I don't know how to over come this ordeal :(. I cry a lot because my life isn't going well and I think to myself am I doing all this to myself! I'm trying so hard to be positive and find a way to forgive her but its so hard. I would love to hear from someone or watch a program with this kinda situation when it comes to your parent. I thank you so much for this program and I will continue to watch and learn to be a better person. I love the saying Oprah says " Forgiveness is giving up the hope that the past can be any different!" Or Eckhart Tolle say "Flap your wings-which translates as let go of the story-and return to the only place of power. The present moment!" But trying to instill that in your life is so difficult for me! Thank you Oprah for all you do! I love you now and always. From your biggest Fan from Canada. Tamara

Comments=I strongly believe that OWN is one of the best network ever created. It has brought education on health, education, religion, poverty etc. She encourages her viewers to read and educate themselves to become a pillar of strength in our society. She has brought attention to the plight of young children affected by poverty and AIDS around the world. She has been a great role model for all women. I have been watching her since I was young and now my daughter has more interest in learning and educating herself through her wonderful shows instead of watching trash tv shows that you see in other networks.

We love Oprah in Canada and lets keep it that way!

Comments=I watch OWN every day, I love the shows and find them very informative, uplifting, educational and empowering. This network has given me the opportunity to learn and grow; to try new things and reach for the unreachable. There are many ways of learning and watching OWN has opened up our way to view the world and the people in it. It would be a shame to not be able to access this network. There are very few programs on now a days that empower the viewers or that are even worth while watching. I cannot understand what it is about this network that is not compliant with CRTC. It is so refreshing to have shown to watch that are nonviolent and up lifting. I am so thankful that Oprah network gives us access to people like Ivanyla, Wayne Dwyer, Eckert Tolle and other wise individuals so help enrich our lives. Comments=I am surprised that they are even challenging the idea that OWN is not educational. I PVR so many shows that are on OWN because it is information that I do not want to miss. I have been educated on resources to make my life better (books, websites, etc) - financial health, mental health, physical health. The importance of investing in yourself, your kids, your family, your spirit. If I was no longer able to watch OWN programming it would leave a big void - I get a lot out of the network. I think OWN's programming is making our society better. I have no idea how we can have so much crap on tv and be questioning the value of this network.

I am an OWNambassador and not only is OWN part of my daily life but i have also traveled to Toronto and Chicago to get a personal experience for myself. The knowledge, energy and positive learning I have yet to see from any other network.

It has been life changing and i am so grateful to have the privilege of flipping on the channel to get my daily reminder of all that is good in this world. To learn how to be better, how to live better.

If I may make a request it would be to have Super Soul Sunday schedule on Sunday at 11:00.

Comments=OWN network has some of the best programming on television.

It is all educational. I wish we had full access to all the programming especially Super Soul Sunday. I am grateful that I can access it through the live feed through the internet until the Canadian broadcasting Commission realizes the value of these programs and how much they contribute to a more informed and educated audience.

Comments=I have learned how to be forgiving of myself. How to let go, how others view things and how successful people view themselves. This is very valuable.

Please keep OWN.

Love the Master Class and Oprah's life class.

Sincerely,
